11-13 August 2015
Aberdeen, Scotland, UK

Speaker of Session 01

LITHIUM ION BATTERIES

Dr Thomas S. Miller is a postdoctoral research associate in the department of Chemistry at University College London, UK. He works for Prof. Paul McMillan. Dr Miller received his PhD at the University of Warwick in 2014 where he studied electrochemical applications of carbon nanomaterials.

His current research focus is on the synthesis and characterisation of carbon nitride materials for lithium-ion battery applications.
