Energy Challenges & Mechanics
- working on small scales

10-14 July 2016
Inverness, Scotland, UK

Speaker of Session 29

ENERGY SAVING TECHNOLOGY

Takahiro Yamashita (山下崇博) received M.E. and Ph.D. in precision engineering from The University of Tokyo in 2007 and 2012, respectively. After working as a researcher at BEANS Laboratory, he got the position of research scientist at National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology (AIST) in 2013. He is currently a researcher of the Research Center for Ubiquitous MEMS and Micro Engineering (UMEMSME), AIST. His research interests are flexible microsystems involving printed electronics.
